

E-Marketing Starter Program

Take the frustration out of your email promo, easily and at Internet speed.

Program Setup

We'll make it easy for you by handling all the steps necessary for you to get your email marketing program setup and ready for use. That includes the design of one template for each of your promo emailers, newsletters, news releases and company surveys.

Tactical Support

We'll help you save time by showing you the ropes so you don't have to sit through video tutorials online or learn by trial and error. We'll also show you how to manage your databases and email schedules, short and long-term.

Affordable Fees

For $995.00 we render all the service and training needed to get your email marketing program started, with direct support for 90 days.

Have you cashed in on email marketing yet?

If you are like most companies today the answer is, no. With today's economic pressures many marketing managers feel they cannot afford a sustained marketing and advertising effort in order to gain recognition and stand apart from the competition.

The Email Marketing Starter program addresses that dilemma by offering you access to an affordable Internet-based email marketing service that you can use on demand 24/7 for a wide range of PR goals and purposes for your company.

All it takes to get started is a quick, but thorough set up in which we handle all the necessary steps to get your account active and ready for use with a couple of creative pieces already prepped and proofed. And after we've trained your marketing coordinator on the system, you'll be ready to fly on your own which means you control the costs, the creative and the timing. Email can be the most effective marketing tool in your promotional arsenal. Put it to work for you.
